100-DAY PLAN

YOUR VOICE COUNTS

Who: Boston Public Schools Parents

What: The 100-Day Plan identifies core values that will guide the work of the district based on input from students, families, staff, community members and partners. The 100-Day plan began on September 8, 2015, and we are continuing to listen and learn about what our schools are doing well and what we need to do in order to better support all of our students. Your continued input throughout this process will inform our Three-Year Plan that will be unveiled in September 2016.

Please attend and provide feedback on the expansion of Advanced Work Classes, aligning BPS Graduation Requirements to the state recommended Mass Core and redesigning central offices to better support school communities. Child care and interpretation (must request by RSVP date) will be available at all meetings. These events are co-sponsored with the Citywide Parent Council and the Boston SpedPac.
